

Parashah Ki Tabo – the Continued Hope in Redemption

Deuteronomy (26:1-29:8)

By Michael Nunes (JEWMAICA, Jamaica)

(Please continue to support the Obadyah Alliance with your kind donations at <https://obadyah.com>, and SephardicU at www.sephardicu.com.)

---

Parasha Ki Tabo/Tavo (Heb. when you come); which is speaking in regards to the point a previous landless people will inherit HaEretz and the vast potential, safety, stability and sustenance which coming into HaEretz, offers.

With the rise of the doctrine of individualism and the sustained disjointing of a people through subjugation and conquest, it become necessary to repaint the importance of shared, people's ownership – shared inherited ownership – to land, untroubled by ruling classes, monarchial courts, governments, clergy or marauding Dons (dominicellus) – these are components to the promised, at the threshold of Ki Tabo. We today however reads Ki Tabo as its reminder to Bnei Yisrael in the galuth, that returning to the path of Torah carries, reconnections – and renewed redemption. Though wading from the Torah carries the galuth, yet: “For whom the Lord loveth He correcteth; even as a father the son in whom He delighteth.”

Though the עִבְרִי (Ibri/Hebrew) has endured being driven from home, his land - yes, even though Yisrael has been driven afar. Even though he has faced calamity, treachery, disaster, strife, wars, usurpation, the inquisition and its long enduring subsequent affiliated powers. Yet in His mercy Yah has preserved for Himself – remnants, of His lasting covenant, a continuation of an enduring promise to abinu Abraham, abinu Isaac and abinu Yaacob. We are taught in the wisdom of our forefathers:

*“In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths. Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the Lord, and depart from and marrow to thy bones.
and with the firstfruits of all filled with plenty, and thy wine. My son, despise not the weary of His correction: For even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.”*

*evil. It shall be health to thy navel, Honour the Lord with thy substance,
thine increase: So shall thy barns be presses shall burst out with new chastening of the Lord; neither be whom the Lord loveth He correcteth;*

Yes: “Happy is the nation whose God is the LORD; the people whom He hath chosen for His own heritage.”

The עֲבָרִי became exposed to calamities and suffering due to his closeness to El Elyon and yet in that closeness not letting go of his – קִשְׁה־עֲרָף (Ke'sheh Oref). Yet Am Yisrael can take comfort that he who is loved is corrected and in repentance there is redemption. Even in galuth the עֲבָרִי must now be conscious, and as one people declare:

“Come, and let us return to יְהוָה: for He has torn, and He will heal us; He has smitten, and He will bind us up. After two days He will revive us: in the third day He will raise us up, and we shall live in his presence.”

Shabbat Shalom